

The X Education Lead generation Model has below insights:

More than 90% of leads are generated from India, state Maharashtra.

The Data analysis and model building shows that the leads are mostly generated from emails where if a person opens email has high chances of conversion. Also people who visit the website and fill the lead generation form has more likely to convert as a potential lead.